A Farmer named Robert Colly, from near Kaskowud, Man., was instantly killed at Rapid City on Friday last. His horse ran away, throwing him to the ground. The wheel struck and crushed his skull. He leaves a wife and four children, the youngest of whom is nine years old.

A Whitman county, Washington, paper says: A gentleman who owns considerable land in this section, told us the other day that he would sell land now for $20 an acre that he would not take $35 for six months ago. If all the big farms in the county were divided into 160 acre tracts and sold to separate owners and actual settlers, it would be a rapid stride in the progress of the country towards wealth.

On the 21st ult. the Hudson's Bay and Pacific Railway and New Steamship Route Syndicate, limited, was registered in London, with a capital of £10,000 in £20 shares the object being to enter into an agreement with Mr. Joseph Nelson, and to obtain from the Dominion Parliament the incorporation of a company to construct and work a railway from Port Churchill, on Hudson's Bay, to a junction with the Canadian Pacific railway at Calgary.

A strong effort will be made to induce the premier to veto the school ordinance before the time for disallowance expires."

A Toronto dispatch says: The coroner's inquest on the body of Lucy Denning, "Doc" Andrew's victim, was concluded Wednesday. The jury found Andrew's nephew of murder; his wife being guilty as accessory before the fact. Dell Andrews, nephew of "Doc," and Cassie Andrews, wife of Dell, were found guilty of being accessories after the fact. Bail was asked for the female prisoners, but refused and all were locked up. There are three other charges of a similar nature pending against Andrews, which will be proceeded with separately. Two female witnesses whose evidence was evidently not straight, were arrested for perjury immediately after the verdict was given.

A United States exchange says. More than half the spindles in the country are silent; more than a thousand mills are closed; more than a million hands are idle.

And whereas the value of the rateable property in the Municipality, according to the last revised assessment roll is $97,363.00.

And whereas it is expedient to borrow the said sum of $6,070 by the issue of debentures, the principal whereof shall be payable within 10 years from the date upon which this By-Law shall take effect and which shall bear interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of five per cent per annum.

And whereas it is expedient to provide for the repayment of the said principal sum by the creation of an equal yearly sinking fund.

And whereas the total amount which will be required to be raised annually by a special rate for repaying the said debt of $6,070 by means of a sinking fund as aforesaid, and the interest thereon as aforesaid is $785.00.

THE WINNIPEG ELECTION.

Martin's majority in the Winnipeg election was 425 as declared by the returning officer. The Free Press gives the vote as 2,199 for Martin and 1,772 for Campbell, or a majority of 427 for Martin. In any case a full vote was polled, and a substantial majority recorded for tariff reform. Although Mr. Martin has been elected as a supporter of Mr. Laurier it has been by both conservative and reform votes, the understanding being that the question was tariff reform on such lines as would be just to the Northwest and not the support of any certain political party or leader. In many, or, indeed in most cases this would be very unsatisfactory. It would mean that the electors would not know from one day to another where to find their representative on public questions. But when Mr. Martin is concerned the question of where he will be found does not arise. If his past record is any guide to his future conduct, he will be found fighting for the rights of his constituents as he understands them without regard to who is friend or who is foe. He can be trusted to vote and work for a fair tariff, and if he does that with half the energy that he threw into his career in provincial politics, it will satisfy those who voted for him against the candidate of their party as well as those who see in Mr. Martin's election the triumph of what has been in the Northwest a lost cause. Mr. Martin's record shows him to be a man of energy, a man of ideas and a hard fighter, but it does not show him to be a purely party man. He did not accommodate his views to those of a party. The party accepted Martin and his views, and the country gained thereby. In the present case not only liberals but conservatives accepted Martin because his views and theirs agreed on the most important matter that was up for consideration, and they felt that he was the best man available to give those views effect.

THE NEW LAND OFFICE.

Now that the cold weather has set in and the danger from fires in all ordinary buildings is greatly increased, the fact that the government offices in Edmonton are still occupying quarters in the frame buildings in which they have been located for nearly ten years past, takes on a serious aspect. The new brick building which was completed early in the summer for the accommodation of these offices, a building to a great extent fire proof and containing ample fire proof vaults, stands vacant, as it has been for months, solely because it has not yet been supplied with a furnace, and no provisions was made in its erection for the use of stoves. The land and registry offices at present occupied are cramped, inconvenient, and cold. They have not sufficient safe accommodation for the keeping of the valuable documents which they necessarily contain. Given a small, cold room, a necessarily strong fire in cold weather and papers stored therein in large quantities, and there are the elements of a destructive fire. When documents that involve the security of hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property are exposed to such risk the case is hard, but when they are unnecessarily exposed the case is much worse. The failure to provide for heating a building the contract for which was let over a year ago and which was finished in every other respect four months ago, is a case of negligence for which there is no excuse. But because a long delay has already occurred there is no reason why the delay should last longer. The public works department is the one that is in fault, but it is the interior department that is at the inconvenience and loss, and should any accident occur, the public will be more likely to lay the blame on the interior department in whose charge the offices are, than on the public works department which has no representative nearer than Calgary and no responsibility beyond the completion of the building.

MORE RAILWAY RATES.

The Hamilton Spectator has been studying the question of railway freight rates in the Northwest of Canada and the United States, and the results of its labors are laid before its readers. The figures given by the Spectator are nice looking figures and they add, subtract, multiply and divide when required just like other figures, but owing to the method of arrangement pursued by the Spectator the only things these figures do is to clearly disprove the venerable theory that figures won't lie.

The Spectator bases its argument as to the moderation of the rates charged for hauling wheat over the C. P. R. on a comparison which it makes between certain rates alleged by it to be charged by the C. P. R. and by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways for like distances. To the casual man, the comparisons looks very fair, no doubt, simply because the eastern man does not know how unfairly they have been made in order to have it appear that the C. P. R. gives the people of the Northwest a better deal on grain than do the parallel roads in the States.

In the first place a comparison between the rates of these three roads for like distances is not fair simply because the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways were built at the expense chiefly of their share and bondholders for the sake of the returns that were likely to accrue from their investment, while the C. P. R. was built chiefly from the taxes and on the credit of the people of Canada for the benefit it would be in the promotion of the settlement of the Northwest. If the road that was built to promote settlement charged nominally the same rates as the roads that were built simply to earn dividends, its rates would practically be higher, according to the amount paid to secure its services for colonization purposes.

In the second place, the comparative table of rates and distances given by the Spectator does not relate to distances between similar points. The rates on the C. P. R. to Fort William are given in comparison with rates on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern to St. Paul. Duluth stands in the same relation to the Northwestern States and to the railways mentioned as Fort William does to the Canada Pacific, and Winnipeg stands in the same position as St. Paul. If the comparison between C. P. R. to Fort William and Great Northern rates to St. Paul is a fair comparison so should be a comparison between C. P. R. rates to Winnipeg and Northern Pacific rates to Duluth. Will the Spectator kindly let an anxious public know what is the rate over the C. P. R. from Winnipeg or Brandon to Fort William and from a competing point or points on the Northern Pacific an equal distance from Duluth to that port. The fact that the Spectator has not made the fair comparison is evidence that such a comparison would be unfavorable to the C. P. R., although built with public money for colonization purposes. As a matter of fact for several years past and until the present year prices of wheat have been a few cents higher on the south than on the north side of the boundary line. This can only be accounted for in one way, namely that it cost most to take the Canadian grain to market. As prices are now about the same on both sides of the line it would appear that the latest reduction made by the C. P. R. has more nearly equalized rates. But the fact that prices are equal is very fair evidence that the very attractive comparison in favor of the C. P. R. as made by the Spectator is only favorable on paper.

In the third place, admitting that the rates from Winnipeg, Brandon, Moosomin and Moose Jaw to Fort William are fair rates, and they cannot be very many cents out of the way, as they stand at present; and admitting freely that the rate from Edmonton to that point is very very low in comparison to the distance, it is yet more than wheat will bear at present prices, and therefore is only a rate on paper and has no practical effect. Edmonton grain must have some other outlet. That outlet it has to the Pacific coast, to which the distance is only a little over 800 miles and on which a rate of 50 cents per hundred pounds is charged. Will the Spectator kindly publish this fact and give some good reason for this prohibitive charge. If it can do so it can do better than either Mr. Van Horne or Mr. Kerr, both of whom have had their attention pointed to it without result. Like the Spectator they tell us all about the rate to Fort William, but haven't a word to say about the rate to Vancouver. We don't care two cents what roads in the United States charge. The point is, is this Canada Pacific road, built with the money or on the credit of the people of Canada for colonization purposes, to be allowed to charge such rates as prohibit export of produce and so deter settlement and prevent colonization.

SELF-DENIAL.

Communicated.

As announced in a previous issue the date of the Salvationists self-denial effort is November 25th to December 2nd, and from the pamphlets and appeals issued and the enthusiasm with which the effort is taken up, the Salvationists have every reason to believe that the proceeds for this year will, as for many years past, show an increase on the previous year. It is interesting to note that the total amount collected per corps or society in connection with last year's self-denial effort for the Salvationists would give Canada the total of $55 per corps or society, being higher than the total of France, Denmark, Norway, Germany, Belgium, Italy or India. The highest total was reached by New Zealand who raised the sum of $125.74 per corps. The earnestness and determination of the self-deniers may be gathered from the fact that in many cases the officers are living on dry bread and water. Others who are fortunate enough to receive salary, are devoting it during this week to the self-denial fund. Arrangements have been made for a house to house visitation by officers and soldiers who have previously distributed envelopes or circulars explaining the object of the fund. In some corps the bands have arranged to go out and take up collections. Early morning meetings are the rule, and our public places are also having a visit from Salvationists, who with their little satchels are soliciting donations towards this fund. It is very interesting to note that a large number of persons who are not Salvationists have agreed to forego during this week of self-denial the use of tobacco and intoxicating drinks in order to increase the self-denial fund.

CLOSED OUT.

The newspaper business in the state of Washington seems not to be very brisk just now. In his good-bye to the people in his issue of November 3rd the editor of the Spangle Record says: "If the business men of Spangle had supported their home paper as they should, this obituary notice need not have been written, but unfortunately there are several business men (?) in town who are hardly cognizant of the fact that the war is over."

It is true it costs money and labor, but you show us a successful business man and we will show you a man who supports his home paper and is a liberal advertiser. Show us a paper and we will tell you the kind of a town in which it is published and whether its citizens are enterprising or drones. It is true that advertisers sometimes fail in business, but you show us one advertiser who fails and we will cite you 99 failures among non-advertisers.

We are loth to leave Spangle, but can not afford to run a newspaper for the benefit of the "dear people" unless the "dear people" lend us a helping hand. We cannot live on good wishes and promises, and the scenery and water in this place are not good enough to keep us alive. When quite young we formed the habit of eating, and now we find it a difficult matter to break ourselves of this bad habit, but if we continue in the newspaper business in Spangle we shall surely have to do so. For this reason we bank the fires in the furnace, stop the engine, discharge all help, close the office door and wait for better times. Hoping that our efforts to furnish the people with a readable paper have not been altogether in vain, and that if we see you no more on earth we shall all meet—at the California Midwinter International exposition in Frisco next year, I now bid you one and all, farewell.

AS SEEN BY OTHERS.

REVELSTOCK, November 24.

EDITOR BULLETIN:

Enclosed please find a clipping from the Vancouver Daily World re Edmonton district and settlements. It is what the British farm delegates say and sums up the results of their investigations. Kindly permit the people to see themselves as others see them, if this has eluded your editorial vigilance and if you have sufficient room in your paper:

"This year tenant-farmer delegates seem to have paid particular attention to the Calgary and Edmonton districts of the Canadian Northwest, and one after the other tells us that for mixed farming Northern Alberta is to their mind the best part of Canada now open to immigration. The reasons given for this broad statement are these: (1). There is plenty of good running water, besides a number of fresh water lakes; (2). There is an abundance of timber suitable for building purposes and fuel, while an unlimited supply of coal can be found, ranging from a five-foot seam to one of 75 feet. This, they say, tends to make the winter in Alberta, in addition to its milder character, a pleasant season for fuel can be had almost for the cost of the country. In regard to the crops, several delegates state that the best yield of oats, wheat and barley are to be found in Northern Alberta, yields far above the average, though the crops of Southern Manitoba and at Indian Head also elicited special praise. How keen is this partiality for the Edmonton district may be judged by the declaration of John Roberts, the North Wales delegate, who has just returned from Canada. "I consider," he says, "that this is the district best adapted for immigrants, especially those with small capital. In my opinion, nothing can stop the Northwest from being a great wheat-growing country. There is no doubt that it has some of the best soil in the world. In the Edmonton district there were some of the best crops of barley and oats I have seen anywhere, and the color of the barley was particularly noticeable. The best wheat crops I saw were around the Edmonton district."

As I am constantly receiving enquiries concerning the climate and soil, prospects and advantages of your town and district. I nearly said our, having lived there three years—I take this opportunity to heartily endorse all that has been said by these delegates. They haven't put it too much. They haven't put it too strongly. All this and more than this can be taken without a grain of salt. Now, I am a disinterested witness; I haven't a town lot; I don't own a section of land but I am a lover of the truth and desire it to prevail. There is another reason why I write. Prior to my departure for British Columbia, several friends and acquaintances asked me for information re British Columbia and especially the Okanagan valley. It is as fair and fertile a spot as man ever saw or put his foot on. This is knowledge acquired since having visited and seen for myself. It is the same with Chilliwack and Ladner's Landing. But after all these districts are full already of monopolizers. Monopoly lives on these fair spots. Men who own thousands and thousands of acres flourish luxuriantly. The emigrant has not the shadow of a chance and never will have, until our legislators look this fact in the face and tax all unemployed and unused land to such an extent that it cannot be held. Then others will have a chance. But at present it isn't so and until it is, and even then, the tide of humanity seeking homes and farms must be turned into Northern Alberta and the unlimited North.

Yours truly,

C. A. PROCTOR.

Medicine Hat Times: Though we differ in some essential points from the principles of temperance enunciated by the Royal Templars of Temperance we cannot but admire the good work they are doing in this town. The influence of the more broad minded members of that society has been instrumental during the past year in reclaiming more than one drunkard, and should any or all of these men go back to their old life of folly and misery it will always be a consolation to their friends to know that for a day, a week or a year, their lives and that of their families have been brightened.
A private letter received at Quebec from Messrs. Low and Eaton, of the Canadian geological survey, who left there in June via Lake St. John and Mistassini for Ungava bay, near the extreme northern limit of Labrador peninsula, conveys the startling intelligence that some 500 Mascopee and Montagnais Indians were starved to death last winter in northern Labrador as a result of the almost entire failure of the caribou hunt last autumn. Usually at the approach of winter these animals come down from the interior towards the coast in enormous herds and hundreds are often killed in a single day and their flesh frozen for winter use.
Moosomin Spectator: Yesterday the city of Winnipeg, by electing the Hon. Joe Martin to a seat in the House of Commons, turned a Conservative majority of seven hundred into a Liberal majority of five hundred. Under the circumstances the result is a remarkable one, and its unmistakable lesson is that Manitoba and the Northwest Territories are deeply dissatisfied with the existing arrangement of the tariff, under which we bear more than our share of the burdens and receive less than our share of the advantages. We do not for a moment believe that a majority of the electors of Winnipeg imagine that the Dominion could exist without a tariff, but they do believe, and we think, justly, that great reductions should and must be made on certain articles. Mr. Campbell, the Conservative candidate, was of course considerably handicapped by the opposition of the daily papers (and herein is an instance of the power of the press) and by the fact that he was comparatively little known; but the Liberal candidate was also heavily discounted by his being practically a citizen of Portage la Prairie, by his record on the Hudson Bay Railway question, and to a less extent by the hostility of the Roman Catholics.

The Wheat Belt, published at Elberton, Washington says: Elsewhere we publish an article entitled "Canada at the World's Fair." We do so to show our readers what can be accomplished by diversified farming. You will see their stock exhibits captured more than half the entire prizes given for stock. A great deal of this stock was raised in the Northwest Territories, a country equally as young as Eastern Washington. Mixed farming and well graded stock is what pays there; and it is the only method that will successfully pay here. Until the farmers of Whitman county realize the facts that they must be self supporting, they will never be successful and independent husbandmen. There is no other county in the State where the majority of farmers buy their meat daily by the pound from the butcher; their butter from the grocer; their flour by the 50-pound sack from the miller; their milk in condensed form from the milk dealer, and so on, and so forth to almost every article on his table. All these things should be produced under his own vine and fig tree—and until he does these things, and the country at large holds annual agricultural and stock exhibitions, and each and every farmer and stock raiser becomes interested and a competitor against his neighbor for excellence of products—his efforts will prove failures, and the mortgage, and the money-lender will forever hold high carnival at the poor farmer's expense.

THE EDMONTON BULLETIN.

(SEMI-WEEKLY)

Telegraphic News, General News, Local News, All the News 104 PAPERS IN A YEAR FOR $2.00

News of Edmonton and surroundings up to hour of issue.
News of the world by telegraph up to day of issue and from two to five days ahead of any other paper reaching Edmonton.

Controlled only by the proprietor and therefore always ready and willing to speak out for the good of the town and district.
THE BULLETIN is read more generally throughout the Edmonton district than any other paper.

If you want to do business in the Edmonton district you can reach more of the people with a less expenditure of money through the advertising columns of the BULLETIN than by any other means.

Fair advertising rates charged, and like rates to all parties.

No advertising of a questionable nature admitted if its character is known.

THE BULLETIN Printing office is second to none in the Territories. Only first-class type, machinery and paper employed. Printing of all kinds done promptly, neatly and cheaply. Call and see samples of work, and get prices before ordering your printing elsewhere.

A newspaper is not a producing industry, but if properly conducted it assists and stimulates production and progress more than any other single agency of like cost. Money spent towards the support of a newspaper is almost entirely spent within the town in which the paper is published and is therefore not lost to the business of the town.

The local newspaper represents the district in which it is published to the outside world.

Support your home paper liberally if it deserves support, so that it can give the best possible impression of your town and district as a field for immigration and investment.

There is big money for a new town in having a live and interesting paper.

THE BULLETIN Fills the Bill.
